Civil Rights Spokesmen Hear JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy brings under one roof today 30 Negro and white civil rights spokesmen, some of them bitter rivals for leadership in the drive to smash racial barriers.

The White House session, bringing together some AFL-CIO officials as well as heads of organizations that have spearheaded demonstrations for Negro equality, will be Kennedy's fourth meeting this week in his effort to quiet and settle the turbulent integration scene.

Among those invited to meet with Kennedy, who leaves tonight on a 10-day trip to Europe, are Dr. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; James Farmer, national secretary of the Congress of Racial Equality CORE; Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta, Ga., Constitution; and A. Phillip Randolph, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

This week Wilkins brought into the open the feud among the organizations fighting for civil rights.

Speaking at a NAACP rally, Wilkins sharply criticized CORE, Dr. King's Christian Leadership Conference and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

Contending that other groups "furnish the noise" while the NAACP "pays the bills," Wilkins told the rally "don't go giving them your money when it should be given to us."

What precisely Kennedy wishes to discuss with the civil rights leaders today was not disclosed.

One cause for concern in the administration are the explosive demonstrations — some of which have flared into rioting — in North and South, and government officials have been laboring to keep the lid on.

Within the past three weeks the President himself has conferred with theater owners, operators of retail stores, motels and hotels, labor leaders, churchmen, educators and—Friday—lawyers.

For more than an hour Kennedy talked with 244 of the country's leading attorneys — 60 of them from the South — in the White House East Room.

At Kennedy's request they es-

Old Fashioned Bargain Event Ends Today

Old fashioned garments left Salem attics and closets for three days of this week and were seen on downtown streets and in local stores as clerks participated in Old Fashioned Bargain Days, Thursday through today.

The annual event sponsored by Salem merchants also inspired the appearance of newly made dresses and suits of colonial and barbershop-quartet style. Not all of the period clothing seen here this weekend was sesquicentennial costuming, although much of it was.

Mustaches and black derbies were commonplace on E. State St. and Broadway in recent days. Taxi cabs operated at reduced fares. A clerk in the window of a centrally located department store pumped player piano tunes by the hour.

Wares were hawked on the sidewalk. And any number of downtown strollers could have been from a "Wagon Train" set.

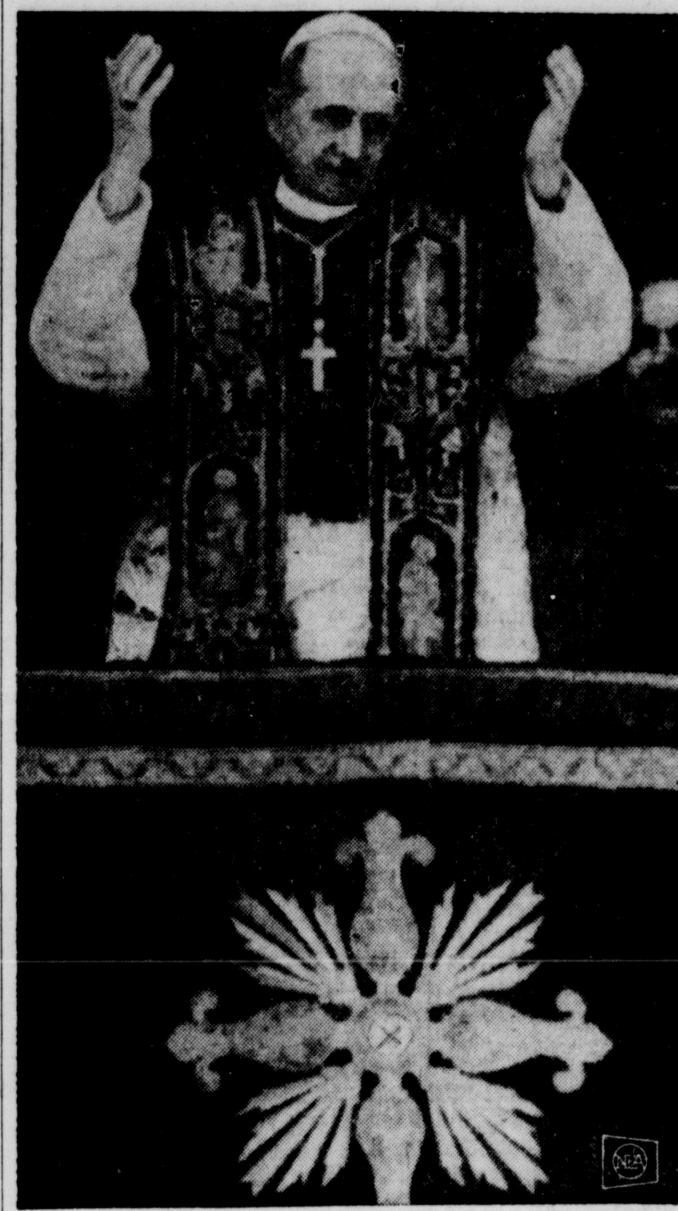

Six judges — four men and two women — went about the stores in three teams of two persons each and secretly selected clerks for finalists in a costume contest. Friday evening, the judges assembled and arrived at the names of five contest winners, who will each receive a $10 cash award for his or her old fashioned attire.

Glenn R. Oliver, Old Fashioned Bargain Days chairman, announces these winners: Frank Aiello of 526 Franklin St., a J. C. Penny Co. clerk; Miss Sherri Atkinson of 1984 Southeast Blvd., R. S. McCulloch Co.; Miss Barbara Dennis of RD 3, Salem, G. C. Murphy Co.; Mrs. Carl Kaiser of 339 Newgarden Ave., S. S. Kresge Co.; and Mrs. A. C. Hively of 385 E. Third St., Brooks Quality Apparel.

Pledges To Strive for International Peace

Ecumenical Council To Be Continued, Pope Paul Says

NEW PONTIFF'S BLESSING — Pope Paul VI imparts his blessing to throng in St. Peter's Square, as first action following his election.

Despite Steady Rain In Moscow

Cosmonauts To Get Red Carpet Welcome

MOSCOW (AP)—Elated Muscovites swarmed into Red Square today despite steady rain to give the Soviet Union's boy-girl space team a red carpet welcome.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said a million flowers were flown in from southern parts of the Soviet Union and Bulgaria to greet the arrival in Moscow of cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova and Valery Bykovsky. It was the largest collection of flowers since 600,000 were assembled to hail cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin in April 1961.

The cosmonauts were scheduled to appear with Premier Khrushchev atop Lenin's tomb.

Tass said millions were set to welcome the cosmonauts, including participants in the coming World Congress of Women representing 100 nations.

Valentina, the world's first space woman, completed 48 orbits before returning to earth Wednesday, more than doubling the American record of 22 set by L. Cooper Jr. last month.

Bykovsky, whose flight was nearly overshadowed by the performance of his dimpled-chinned blonde space partner, set a record with 81 orbits.

In an interview with the government newspaper Izvestia Friday the two cosmonauts said they felt as healthy as they did before the tandem flight.

Both cosmonauts said they slept without dreams in their separate space capsules. Valentina jokingly added that one or twice she had to be awakened by radio.

Their space diet, Valentina said, included four kinds of meats, fruits, juices, and even real Mos-

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI, in his first message to the world pledged today to continue the Vatican Ecumenical Council and strive for international peace.

The new Pope, clearly setting out on the path traced by Pope John XXIII, also promised to work for Christian unity and go ahead with the Canon Law revision that John started.

Pope Paul completed the outline of his program with the assurance he would support the policies of social justice outlined by his predecessors.

The prepared message in Latin, less than 24 hours after his election as 262nd supreme pontiff of the world's half billion Roman Catholics, was in effect a keynote speech.

The pontiff spoke as jubilant Catholics made ready for his coronation June 30 in Christendom's most brilliant ceremony.

The papal speech was broadcast from the Sistine Chapel where the Sacred College of Cardinals Friday elected Giovanni Battista Montini, 65-year-old archbishop of Milan, as the new Pope.

"The pre-eminent part of our pontificate will be occupied with the continuation of the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council, on which the eyes of all men of good-will are focused," Pope Paul said.

"This will be the principal work, for which we intend to devote all the energies which the Lord gave us so that the Catholic Church... can attract all men to it."

Pope Paul did not say when he would reconvene the Council. It was believed unlikely that the assembly would meet Sept. 8, as Pope John had scheduled.

Considerable preparatory work must be done, and this was suspended on Pope John's death June 3.

The 65-year-old Pope had often spoken with views similar to Pope John's.

The Pope spoke after each of the cardinals advanced one by one to his papal throne before the altar in the Sistine Chapel. They wore their great capes with long, flowing trains.

Pope Paul wore his white bishop's miter and a gold-embroidered stole. Each cardinal knelt before the Pope and kissed the ring on his right hand.

When 87-year-old Maurilio Cardinal Fossati of Turin advanced, Pope Paul arose from his throne and, smiling, stepped down two steps, to meet the aged cardinal. They embraced on both cheeks in what is called "the kiss of peace."

The Sistine Choir sang a polyphonic hymn throughout.

The new spiritual ruler, in taking the name Paul VI, emphasized his support for the path toward Christian unity charted by the late John XXIII, who died June 3.

The Apostle Paul did much to spread Christianity in the ancient world. His name is venerated by all Christians faithfuls.

2 Persons Injured In 3-Car Crash

Lawrence Lee Sommers, 20, and his three-year-old nephew, Terry Lynn Sommers, both of RD 2 Salem were treated at the Central Clinic and released Friday afternoon following a three-car accident at 12:24 p.m. on Newgarden Ave. at the intersection of Liberty St.

According to police, a car operated by Charles Keith Long, 25, of 818 Liberty St. pulled from Liberty St. onto Newgarden Ave., hitting the car driven by Sommers. The impact caused the latter auto to hit a car operated by Millie Ann Gibson, 30, of RD 3, Salem. Her car was in a driveway. All three vehicles were damaged.

Long was cited for failure to yield the right of way and was scheduled to appear in Mayor Dean B. Cranmer's court today.

Sommers received knee and head lacerations. His nephew suffered cuts of the mouth.

JFK Begins 10-Day Tour Through Europe

W. Berlin President's First Stop

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sets out tonight on a 10-day tour of Europe that may derive its greatest significance from his multiple appearances in European television screens.

Kennedy's voice and image—carrying a personal message of friendship from America—will be brought within range of more than 25 million television receivers in at least 12 western European countries.

The most dramatic moment is expected Wednesday when much of Europe will see a seven-hour, step-by-step telecast of Kennedy's motor tour through Communist encircled Berlin.

Television audiences will see the President mount a special platform at the Checkpoint Charlie border crossing to peer over the 22-month-old Berlin wall.

Parts of the Berlin program will be beamed live to the United States via both the Telstar and Relay satellites.

Kennedy plans to begin his four-country journey at 9:30 p.m. EDT tonight, taking off by jet transport from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., after spending much of the day with his family at Camp David, Md.

West Germany will be the first stop, followed—in order—by Ireland, England, Italy and Vatican City. The Vatican was placed on the itinerary Friday so Kennedy can meet with Pope Paul VI, the new leader of the President's Roman Catholic faith.

Konrad Adenauer, West Germany's soon-to-retire chancellor, will welcome Kennedy to that country at Wahn Airport Sunday morning.

The arrival ceremony will mark the start of the most extensive television coverage ever given an

Routine Bills Passed by Ohio Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate, in a Friday session held in order to speed toward finishing up regular business next week, approved reorganization of the Natural Resources Department.

The House held only a skeleton session for routine business.

The Senate also passed House-approved bills establishing fines for littering streams, authorizing local medical care for patients discharged from state hospitals and enlarging the State Teachers Retirement Board from five to seven members.

The natural resources measure passed by a 2-3 vote. It now goes to the House, which previously passed it, for acceptance of Senate changes.

The bill: Sets the term of the natural resources director at four years, instead of the present six, to coincide with that of the appointing governor.

Establishes a nine-member Recreation and Resources Commission to replace the eight-member Natural Resources Commission.

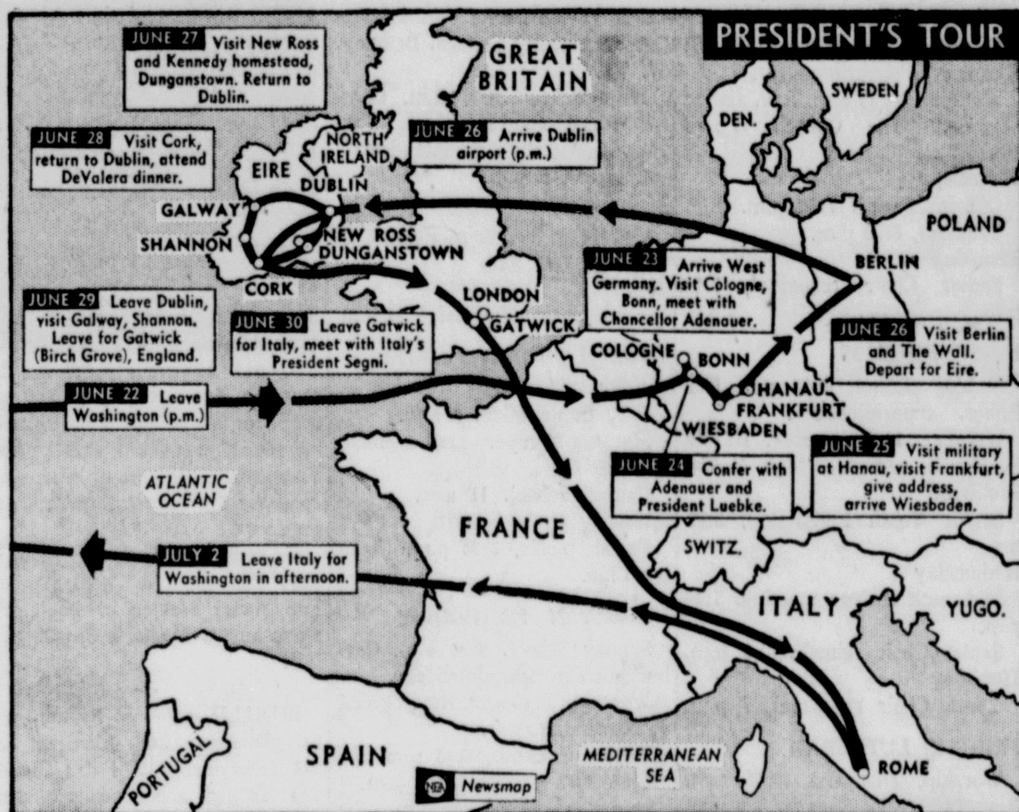

Changes the Division of Parks to a Division of Parks and Recreation, with duties spelled out to overcome questioned legality of present regulations for parks, camping, cabin rental admissions and the like.

Creates a seven-member Ohio Parks and Recreation Council within the Parks Division to recommend development programs.

Gives the wildlife chief authority to vary the legal length of fish taken commercially and to change Lake Erie fishing seasons.

Revises the personnel makeup of the Natural Resources Commission, the Water Commission and the Wildlife Council to some extent.

Boy, 13, Admits Murdering Girl

Youth Claims He Was Pushed Around

NEW YORK (AP)—A 13-year-old neighbor boy, angered over being "pushed around" by a girl two years his junior, admitted today that he stabbed her to death in her Manhattan apartment, police said.

The slain child was Erica Sayers, identified as the daughter of a New Orleans television producer and his ex-wife, an attractive cover girl model.

The brutal slaying was discovered at 1:30 a.m. by the victim's stepfather, Kim Philip Halpern, 26, a typesetter for the New York Times.

He found Erica in the bathroom when he returned home from work. She was clad in dungarees and blue sweater. An electric cord was wrapped around her neck. A blood-stained bread knife was by her side.

The boy told police he "stabbed her three times—I think" because she had "pushed me around."

The boy was booked on a charge of juvenile delinquency, with a specification of homicide. However, police would not disclose his name because he is un-

Western States Demand Policy-Making Role

Republicans To Pick City for Convention

DENVER (AP)—The Republican National Committee selects a site for the party's 1964 National Convention today amid increasing demands by Western states for a greater role in GOP policy-making councils.

The committee arranged to pick the convention city about 2 p.m. EST from a list of seven cities bidding for the designation.

First will come the recommendation of a special site selection committee. Its vice chairman, Jean K. Tool of Colorado, said a final vote will be made just before the National Committee acts.

The candidates for the National Convention are Atlantic City, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Miami Beach, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The site committee wants the convention to open July 13, 1964. The Western bid for greater recognition, bolstered by talk of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as a presidential candidate, was spearheaded by Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado.

"I see in our Western spirit, as in our Western accomplishments and limitless potential, a vital lesson for our national party," Allott said in the principal address at a dinner Friday night.

Gov. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, in another speech, took a similar line.

Overhaul or Not?

Legislature May Not Revamp Sunday Law

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Will the 105th General Assembly go home without overhauling Ohio's troublesome Sunday closing law?

That's the big question still looming for lawmakers here as they rush into their last few days of working sessions.

The tipoff is expected to come early in the week in the Senate lif-or-death judgment over the two Blue Law bills that have been languishing there for weeks.

Mechem Calls Shots

The man who calls the shots in that powerful committee—Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem — dislikes the House-passed bill and holds no enthusiasm for an alternate Senate bill.

But he says he plans to call for a vote and will send to the Senate floor the bill that gets a majority of the seven committee votes.

However, the Nelsonville Republican doesn't think the House bill will make it, and that in itself could mean no new Blue Law in this session.

The House measure is dubbed the James Bill for Rep. Edmund G. James, R-Noble, who nursed it through prolonged Judiciary committee hearings and steered it to House passage three months ago.

Exceptions Listed

It would ban the Sunday sale of all property except for a specific list of commodities deemed necessary to the health, welfare and safety of the buyer.

The other bill, sponsored by Sen. Kline Roberts, R-Columbus, simply increases the penalty section of the existing law and provides for enforcement by civil action.

Mechem indicated he plans to consider the Roberts bill first in committee.

"Of course, if the Roberts bill gets four votes," he said, "I won't bring the James bill up."

Then he added significantly: "Let's put it this way: I don't think the James bill is going to the floor."

Will There Be a Law?

Does that mean no Blue Law this year?

"Well, there's talk that the House won't accept the Roberts bill," the senator said. "You can draw our own conclusions from that. But I'd think that if the House won't accept it there's not much point in our passing it."

If the Blue Law proposals do die a-borning, as Mechem's comments might imply, one factor in their demise could be an ironic situation involving House-Senate communications.

Except for one appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee to explain his bill, James has maintained a hands-off policy

Work Progressing On Overpass Job

About six per cent of the work has been finished on the Rt. 62 overpass on W. State St., according to a report from the Ohio Department of Highways.

The Salem job is three tenths of a mile long.

Highway construction contracts in the department's Division 11, which headquarters in New Philadelphia, totaled $30,608,514 at the beginning of June, the department reports.

Division 11 Deputy Director Earl W. Nelson said that 18 projects covering 40 miles of state and U.S. highways were under construction in the division at the beginning of this month.

In Columbiana County the Rt. 30 relocation between East Liverpool and Rt. 170 at Calcutta is ahead of schedule, with 62 per cent of the work completed. The length of the project is 2.7 miles.

On Rt. 172 east of New Garden about 69 per cent of the work is completed on a two-tenths mile relocation that includes replacement of a narrow bridge.

Ronald Abrams Overcomes Handicap Blind, Gets College Degree

Ronald Abrams, 22, of 325 S. Madison Ave., relaxes at the electric organ at his home following recent graduation exercises at Youngstown University where he received the bachelor of arts degree.
He says he's going to "take it easy this summer" before going into social service or beginning work on his Master's degree this fall.

RONALD, afflicted by congenital glaucoma, had impaired vision from birth until his junior year in high school when he suffered the loss of the 10-percent vision which had remained.

"It was then I decided I must 'do or die', Abrams recalls, "and I've been doing ever since." Although his family lived in Salem all his life, Ronald attended Braille classes at Rayen School, from which he was graduated in 1959.

He attended Youngstown University accompanied by a tape recorder, and credits his family and friends with helping him to complete work for his college degree.

HIS SPARE TIME occupations include, besides playing the organ, doing radio and TV repair work.

The B.A. recipient is the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abrams. The father is a Mullin pressman. Ronald has two brothers, Robert, a 1961 graduate of Salem High School, and Gary, who'll be a Salem High senior this autumn; and a sister, Cynthia, who will enter eighth grade at St. Paul's School.

Civil Rights Program Touchy Political Situation for JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's civil rights recommendations may win him enough Negro votes in the North in 1964 to more than offset the support he appears to be jettisoning in the South.

While Kennedy and his Democratic lieutenants have sounded trumpet calls for bipartisan backing, the President's action in asking Congress for a far-reaching program has put Republicans over a political barrel.

The outcome, of course, is uncertain. But if Congress passes any substantial segment of the Kennedy program, the voters in the North and the South are likely to label the end result as a Kennedy measure.

The fact that GOP votes might have been crucial for the bill's passage might get scant attention in the acclaim for a presidential victory in this field.

On the contrary, if no bill is passed, the outcome probably will be charged—or credited, as the viewpoint dictates—to the Republican minorities of the two houses. They would be accused—or praised—for having contributed the margin for the program's defeat.

Most observers feel Republicans will make additional inroads in the South next year, benefitting from the President's quest for enforced desegregation of privately owned business firms serving the public and his request for new weapons to prod for school integration.

Republican vote gains seem to be indicated if the GOP picks a presidential nominee who is regarded in Dixie as even slightly less pro-civil rights than the Democratic president.

Some GOP conservatives think they could win the presidency for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., by sweeping the South and most states west of the Mississippi.

But eastern Republicans, many of them strong civil rights advocates, don't agree with this theory. They believe the only way to defeat Kennedy's certain bid for re-election is to carry some of the more populous states.

100 Men Attend Lutheran Meeting

Approximately 100 attended the Northern Columbiana and Southern Mahoning County Lutheran Men's meeting Wednesday evening in the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Ward Zeller was master of ceremonies. Congregations of Lutheran churches from Greenford, Sebring, Leetonia, Columbiana, New Springfield, North Georgeburg, New Waterford, East Liverpool and Salem were represented.

Rev. Theodore C. Meibohm of the Lutheran Children's Aid Society in Cleveland was guest speaker.

He stressed the importance of personal and individual counseling in family problems and expressed concern that parents are not giving enough time and love necessary for successful and happy families.

Rev. Meibohm declared the Lutheran Children's Aid Society is a qualified and recognized adoption agency and said social conditions today result in more children being placed for adoption than the supply of persons qualified as adoptive parents.

The opening devotions were in charge of Olin Muntz and Ronald Krofft. Walter Black, president of the NoCoSoMa group, presided.

The meeting concluded with a fellowship and refreshment hour.

Flea Trainer Seeks More Performers

LONDON (AP)—Miss Pauline Testo—who runs a flea circus—was scratching around today looking for performers.

"Fleas," she said, "are hard to get these days."

Miss Testo blamed Britain's health authorities for her predicament.

"Health authorities all over the country have been carrying on an increasingly active campaign against fleas. There's a risk of them being wiped out," she said. Miss Testo needs performers because she has several engagements coming up.

"I'm down to four stars," she explained, "and that's not enough to put on a good show."

She said fleas are not difficult to train—once you get the right material.

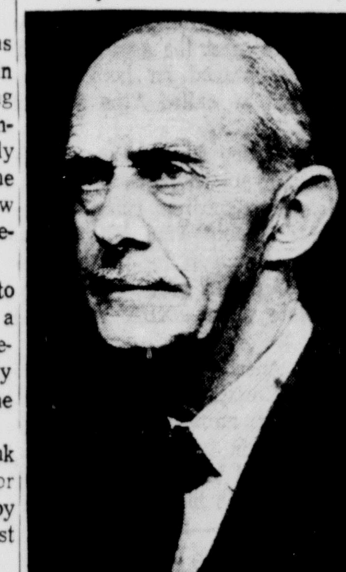

She said there are plenty of dog fleas, but they don't live long enough.

"I need the sort of fleas that get on human beings," she went on. "They live for months and can be trained for the various acts."

Miss Testo said she is willing to pay well for potential stars. The going rate is $1.68 a dozen. "I'll pay more than that," she said.

Scotland's favorite folk instrument, the bagpipe, first was mentioned historically in Rome during the first century.

Two Area Women Serve As Police Dispatchers

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

They don't wear a badge or the blue of the policeman but two women in Columbiana County have been performing yeoman service as police aides.

Mrs. Margaret Hetric of 47 W. Salem St., Columbiana, has been a dispatcher in her village for the past 20 years and her Leetonia counterpart, Mrs. Jean Dominic of 171 Chestnut St., has served in the same capacity for eight years.

Both women take in stride the police calls which come into their homes at any hour of the day or night. Loss of sleep is their "price of eternal vigilance." Nights go by without a single ring, then a whole rash of calls will break out, the women declare.

When the phone rings, the dispatchers take the message, then report it by way of the two-way, short-wave radios in their homes to the policeman on duty. In earlier days before the radios were purchased, lights on high buildings or poles in the villages were turned on to alert cruising policemen that trouble was afoot.

Leetonia Police Chief Allen Gibson said Mrs. Dominic, wife of Patrolman Frank Dominic, is performing a valuable service, giving the village better round-the-clock police efficiency.

Mrs. Hetric, Scotch-born of Irish parents, is rounding out two decades as Columbiana dispatcher in October. Uppermost in her recollection of major events she's been first to know about was the fire at Tidd's Department Store about eight years ago which threatened the west side of Main St., and the robbery at the Union Banking Co. several years ago.

Both women receive a hodgepodge of unusual queries, including how to get dogs, ponies, cats or raccoons out of backyards.

And one group of Leetonia youths, apparently regarding Mrs. Dominic's home as an information center, once called to inquire if she knew which of two states is farthest from Ohio.

Ship Leaving With Final Cuba Ransom

WASHINGTON (AP)—A ship carrying the last shipment of ransom for Cuban Bay of Pigs captives sails from Philadelphia Sunday.

The Red Cross announced Friday in Washington that when the cargo of the S.S. Maximus is delivered, it will bring to $49,300,995 the value of medical supplies and foodstuffs exacted by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for the release of 1,113 prisoners.

The total ransom is figured at $53 million. The balance is charged to credits for packing, insurance and transportation of the goods shipped to Cuba by nine ships and 35 plane flights.

The ransom agreement was negotiated by New York Lawyer James B. Donovan. The ransom goods were donated by 204 U.S. manufacturers and the transportation was also provided free by U.S. shipping firms and Pan American World Airways.

The Maximus will return to the United States with 846 Cuban refugees and their relatives, in addition to the more than 8,400 person already brought here in the ransom operation.

Going Because It's There

It's as if people who wondered why the United States should send a man to the moon had tired of wondering about that and taken up a puzzlement closer to home. Why is President Kennedy going to Europe? The same answer covers both situations. The United States is going to send a man to the moon because it's there. The President is going to Europe because it's there.

IT IS POSSIBLE he may accomplish as much by having nothing special in mind as his predecessors have accomplished on special missions.

It is probable he will have less to regret than they have had when the repercussions of their visits were revealed. At least this will not be a Yalta or a Potsdam, not even a "summit conference."

There might even be some good results for the Macmillan government in Britain. British restraint might dictate an easing off of the inquiry into underlying causes and consequences of what alarmists are calling a state of decadence in the "establishment." It might even be good for Frenchmen and nationalities associated with Frenchmen in the Common Market to wonder why the President of the United States wasn't invited to visit France. It might occur to them that France, under President de Gaulle, is in the isolationism that the United States had to break out of before it could come to France's rescue in two world wars.

AS FOR THE effect of the visit at home, it makes no difference whether Mr. Kennedy is in Washington, Hyannis Port, London, or Rome.

The idea that the president of the United States is drained of his power when he leaves the White House has been absurd ever since long distance telephoning was perfected.

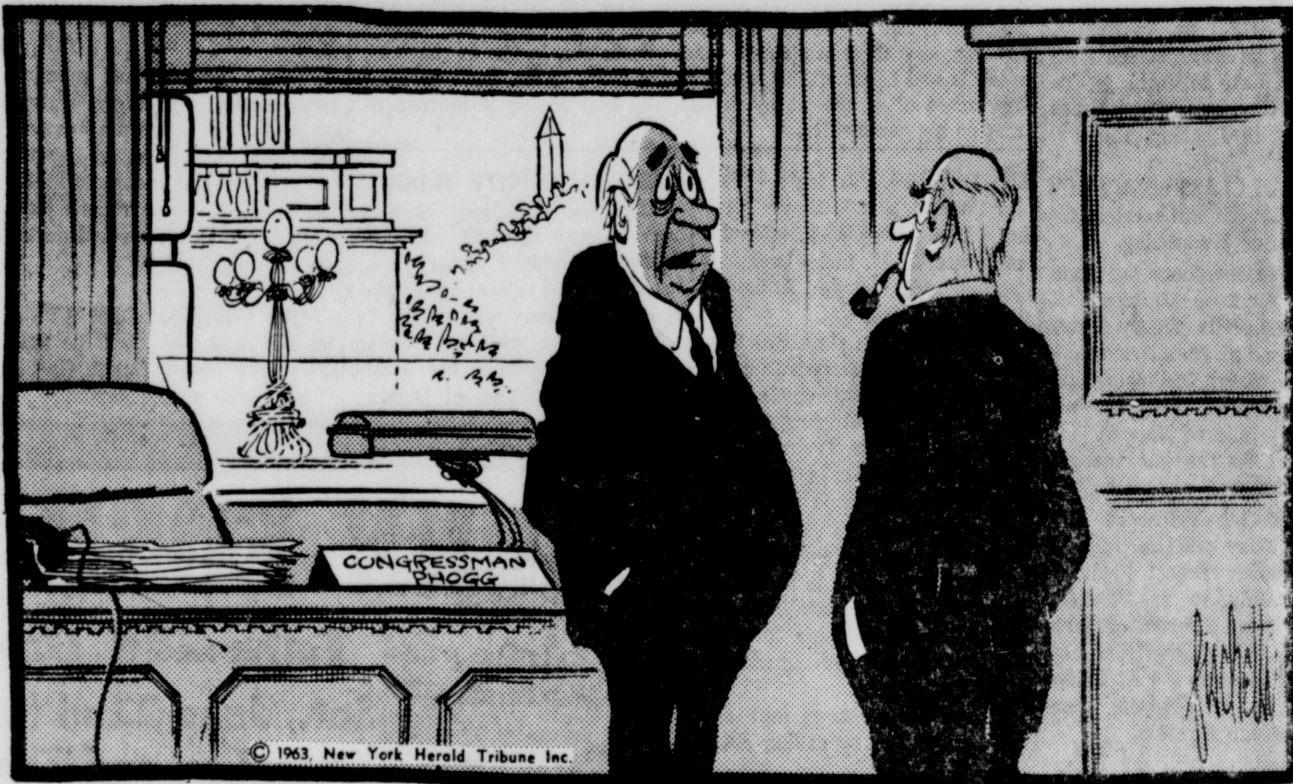

Europe is there, so President Kennedy is going there.

Does he really need any better reason? It's good enough for all the other Americans who will go to Europe this summer.

By DAVI D LAWRENCE

The controversy over prayers in public schools is just beginning. The problem is how to explain the latest decision of the Supreme Court of the United States to the American people that matter, to peoples abroad.

The highest court of the State of Maryland, for in David Lawrence's stance, said it was all right to

"Having My Family Working In My Office Has Its Drawbacks. It's Like a Home Away From Home"

Labor Launches Drive

By VICTOR RIESEL

Virtually overlooked by the nation is the actual launching by labor strategists of the big push for a shorter work week ranging from 36 to 30 hours at 40 hours pay. This drive now is under way. It will pick up speed in mid-July. And it could well get its most dramatic fillip from new union tactics inside the secret conferences being held by the government in its effort to block a nationwide railroad strike.

Insiders are saying that the leaders of the five "on-train" unions soon will make the real issue inside those closed door parleys a shorter work day on the country's 195 major railroads.

The sources report that the proposed cut in hours will become a stormier issue than the roads' attempt to lay off tens of thousands of Diesel locomotive firemen and others whom the lines say cost $600 million annually for unnecessary jobs.

In effect, the rail brotherhoods are expected to end their strike threat if they get a 36-hour week — that is a six-hour day (Six-day week), instead of an eight-hour day.

If they do win this, the unions will yield on most of the proposed layoffs. In fact, the unions already have put on paper their own proposals for the reduction of firemen.

BEHIND THIS strategy is the almost unknown background of slow but steady efforts to cut the hours of work on the freight and passenger trains hurtling across country. The railroads say they have had longer hours than the rest of their brethren in industry.

It was not until 1907 that Congress passed a law cutting the work day on the railroads to 16 hours. There were tough criminal penalties written into the act for violations.

By 1916 the work day was reduced to 10 hours. Then on Sept. 5, 1916, Congress passed the Adamson Act. The law made the official work day eight hours. Railroads could put in as many as 14. But overtime had to be paid from the ninth hour. The work week was not cut. The men could work six or even seven days.

Since then, say the brotherhood leaders, there has been little official change.

However, the railroad companies say prayers in public schools. Two professed atheists disputed this, and the Supreme Court of the United States sided with them and reversed Maryland's highest court.

In Moscow, it has been repeatedly contended that atheism is preferable to any religion, and it has been insisted that there is no God. What shall be said to the students in American schools on this point? How can it be explained to countries whose governments do not forbid unrestricted religious worship?

A prominent senator from a Northern state was telling his friends this week that, when his children came home from school the other day, they said the teacher had "forgotten to say the Lord's Prayer." The prayer, which had been a regular part of the morning exercises in the school, really had been discontinued without explanation.

BUT WHAT can a teacher say to the children?

Suppose the student asks whether there is a God. May the teacher answer the question? To do so might offend the believers in atheism and this, according to the Supreme Court, could violate the Constitution. How might a teacher explain the latest ruling to the students? It might be done this way:

"The Supreme Court has said that we must not pray at our morning exercises or any other time in the school room. It says this violates the Constitution, which forbids Congress to pass any law 'respecting an establishment of religion.'"

Then the student asks: "Did Congress pass such a law?"

"No," replies the teacher. "Some of the states did, however, and the Supreme Court says no state can pass such a law either." "Where," asks the student "can that be found in the Constitution?"

"It isn't there," replies the teacher, "but the Supreme Court says the 14th Amendment covers it just the same, even though laws about religion aren't mentioned."

"But doesn't this mean," asks the student, "that now we do what the atheists say we must do—not mention God? Isn't that a kind of religion, too?"

"All I can do," answers the teacher, "is to quote to you what the Supreme Court says in its opinion. It's as follows:

"It is insisted that unless these religious exercises are permitted a 'religion of secularism' is established in the schools. We agree of course that the state may not establish a 'religion of secularism' in the sense of affirmatively opposing or showing hostility to religion, thus 'preferring those who believe in no religion over those who do believe.' We do not agree, however, that this decision in any sense has that effect."

WHO CAN be sure what effect there will be on the mind of the school child who has been told day after day that there is a God, and then suddenly is told that the Supreme Court has ordered the in the school room or to permit any prayers whatsoever in a public school

A nationwide campaign of education is going to be necessary to explain not only what the court forbade, but why it is convinced that a prayer in school might be offensive to those who don't believe in God or in any prayers at all.

Can the people decide this issue for themselves by a vote? Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., says he took a poll in his state and found that 71 per cent of the people favor Bible reading in the schools. Several senators have proposed that an amendment to the federal Constitution be adopted which would read as follows:

"Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit the authority administering any school, school system, or educational institution supported in whole or in part from any public funds from providing for the participation by the students thereof in any periods of Bible reading or non-sectarian prayer if such participation is voluntary."

THE SPONSORS of the foregoing are Senators Williams of Delaware, Beall of Maryland, Bennett of Utah, Goldwater of Arizona, Allott of Colorado and Carlson of Kansas.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., also is proposing a constitutional amendment which not only would uphold the constitutionality of Bible reading and prayers in public schools but would "preserve references to belief in or reliance upon God and any invocation of aid from God in governmental or public document, proceeding, ceremony and upon any coinage, currency or obligation of the United States that is standing or may come in the future years."

Amendments of this kind may or may not be adopted. Meanwhile, the issues in the controversy over prayers are growing in complexity, and the average man will wonder why his children in school can't be told by their teachers that there is a God or what the Ten Commandments say about morality.

History Today

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1864 U.S. Army Lieutenant A. W. Greely and the remaining six members of his expedition were rescued at Cape Sabine in the Arctic. The party, originally numbering 18, and marooned for nearly three years, was found by a search mission led by Commander Winfield Schley.

On this date In 1611 Dutch navigator Henry Hudson's crew mutinied and set him and eight other men adrift in a small boat which was never heard from again.

In 1812, France declared war on Russia.

In 1869, the Georgia Supreme Court declared Negroes eligible for public office.

In 1941, Nazi Germany invaded Russia during World War II.

In 1946, two P80 jet planes made the first jet-propelled air mail flights from Schenectady, New York to Dayton, Ohio and from Schenectady to Washington, D.C.

Ten years ago—Gov. Earl Warren signed a bill to outlaw the Communist party in California.

Five years ago—Seven New York City policemen and a number of pickets were injured when Hungarian refugees demonstrated outside the Soviet Union's mission to the United Nations.

Poor Timing

Salem's "Old Fashioned Bargain Days" were in full swing Friday afternoon, with shoppers competing with automobiles for premium space, when—lo, and behold—city service department workers decided to paint traffic safety lanes and pedestrian crosswalks.

The intersection markings are important but the painting ought to be done on a less busy day. This was the second time this spring that the city's paint crews were ordered out on a Friday.

Number, Please

It would seem, after learning of the new zip code numbers issued by the Post Office Department, that a person may have to be a living calculating machine to keep in contact with the rest of the world.

This latest development, added to the direct distance telephone dialing system which involves dialing 13 digits oftentimes to reach one party, plus code numbers for checking accounts, record clubs and other products of the electronic age, is perhaps rather confusing to the normal human whose real concern, perhaps, is his or her social security number.

While acknowledging that all these new developments are definite aids in the modern day operations, one might reflect that a person soon may have to utter a code of some sort before he eats his breakfast, enjoys a game of golf or sits down in the evening with his newspaper.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Better not brood about it, but with knowledgeable people convinced cigarette smoking causes lung cancer it's probable the consumption of cigarettes will continue to rise. Yet a drug that deformed some yet-to-be-born babies was snatched off the market quicker than you could say "Pure Food and Drug Act."

Harold Wilson, British Labour party leader, said in Parliament the Profumo case would have been rejected as trash if the British had read it in an American paperback. How true, Mr. Wilson. When we Americans read it in our newspapers we thought it was trash, too.

The tragedy of race relations is that the seamy side of the problem gets reported and people rarely hear of the good side. Millions of Americans are doing everything they know how to do to prove the brotherhood of man isn't just something preachers talk about on Sundays.

Before I understood how the system worked, I felt sorry for baseball managers who got fired when their teams slumped. The system is that the deposed genius gets paid for the unexpired time on his contract and remains in good standing in the "union," meaning he will be shuffled into a job vacated when someone else is hired and fired.

For pure delight, nothing beats homegrown strawberries with cream and sugar—no dog biscuits, cakes, cookies, cakes or extraneous material added—just the berries baby!

Social item: Among the out-of-town guests spending a few days at the Twillery is a golden retriever. And his name? What else would you call a dog with a golden fleece?

I like the proposal of an unnamed writer of editorials to combine Father's Day with Mother's Day and call it Parents Day. I assume the nameless one has his eye on the main chance and, like me, hasn't been doing well on Father's Day and would like to cut in on tokens of love and respect.

One of the illogical angles on eating is that cold plates and iced tea are hard to come by during the cold months, though many of us who like them would prefer to eat them throughout the entire year, instead of being limited to the hot months.

All kinds of cracks are being made about the Kennedy administration, which is customary with all administrations. But the one that hurts most, I should imagine, is to refer to Washington as "Boys' Town." Nothing has done our young President and his administration more damage than the impression of being handicapped by a lack of the caution that comes from learning the stove is hot.

When I learn what dissenters think about the U.S. Supreme Court ruling against official religious exercises in public schools, I wonder what they would say if religious minorities turned no majorities. That would put the shoe on the other foot, wouldn't it?

After many years of fussing with sheep and lambs, I still get heavy-hearted when a lamb dies—this innocent, beautiful creature that never harmed anything and was destined for a lifetime of helplessness in a world fraught with danger and filled with enemies.

BEHIND THIS strategy is the almost unknown background of slow but steady efforts to cut the hours of work on the freight and passenger trains hurtling across country. The railroads say they have had longer hours than the rest of their brethren in industry.

either." "Where," asks the student "can that be found in the Constitution?"

"It isn't there," replies the teacher, "but the Supreme Court says the 14th Amendment covers it just the same, even though laws about religion aren't mentioned."

"But doesn't this mean," asks the student, "that now we do what the atheists say we must do—not mention God? Isn't that a kind of religion, too?"

"All I can do," answers the teacher, "is to quote to you what the Supreme Court says in its opinion. It's as follows:

"It is insisted that unless these religious exercises are permitted a 'religion of secularism' is established in the schools. We agree of course that the state may not establish a 'religion of secularism' in the sense of affirmatively opposing or showing hostility to religion, thus 'preferring those who believe in no religion over those who do believe.' We do not agree, however, that this decision in any sense has that effect."

WHO CAN be sure what effect there will be on the mind of the school child who has been told day after day that there is a God, and then suddenly is told that the Supreme Court has ordered the in the school room or to permit any prayers whatsoever in a public school

A nationwide campaign of education is going to be necessary to explain not only what the court forbade, but why it is convinced that a prayer in school might be offensive to those who don't believe in God or in any prayers at all.

Can the people decide this issue for themselves by a vote? Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., says he took a poll in his state and found that 71 per cent of the people favor Bible reading in the schools. Several senators have proposed that an amendment to the federal Constitution be adopted which would read as follows:

"Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit the authority administering any school, school system, or educational institution supported in whole or in part from any public funds from providing for the participation by the students thereof in any periods of Bible reading or non-sectarian prayer if such participation is voluntary."

THE SPONSORS of the foregoing are Senators Williams of Delaware, Beall of Maryland, Bennett of Utah, Goldwater of Arizona, Allott of Colorado and Carlson of Kansas.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., also is proposing a constitutional amendment which not only would uphold the constitutionality of Bible reading and prayers in public schools but would "preserve references to belief in or reliance upon God and any invocation of aid from God in governmental or public document, proceeding, ceremony and upon any coinage, currency or obligation of the United States that is standing or may come in the future years."

Amendments of this kind may or may not be adopted. Meanwhile, the issues in the controversy over prayers are growing in complexity, and the average man will wonder why his children in school can't be told by their teachers that there is a God or what the Ten Commandments say about morality.

Dear Ann Landers: I have read your column for almost eight years and have learned a lot from it. Because of you I no longer feel guilty about refusing to answer the doorbell when the neighborhood pest shows up at 9:30 a.m. with her 3-year-old—full of conversation which used to last through lunch.

Now I have another problem. Does a person have the right not to answer the telephone if she doesn't feel like it?

A certain relative who's a notorious yakkler telephones me at approximately the same time every morning. She has tied me up for as long as 45 minutes with petty gossip and foolish chatter.

I decided just to let the phone ring. I think she is wise. Am I wrong to do this? — WILL POWER.

Dear Will: The person who puts in the call does so at her convenience. Just because she is willing, able and ready to gab is no sign you have to be on deck to listen.

If you don't feel like talking—or listening—just let the bloomin' ring ring.

The Middle Ground

Dear Ann: Our daughter will be 14 late this summer and we do not allow her to date. Both my husband and I are avid readers of your column and we are standing firm on this dating business until Margo gets to high school, which is what you recommend.

The problem is this: Margo has numerous friends, both boys and girls. She receives a good many telephone calls and both boys and girls seem to be visiting here frequently.

Shall we discourage the boys from calling or coming to the house? My husband or I always is present, so the children are well chaperoned.

We don't want to be too strict with our daughter but we don't want to go to the other extreme either. Where is the sensible middle ground? Thank you.—PONCA CITY.

Dear Ponca: You are wise to seek the middle ground. I believe it's where you are at the moment.

Keep saying no to dating until Margo is in high school but permit boys to telephone and come to the house to visit. She won't feel deprived, yet she won't be dating.

My hat is off to you for having sense enough to insist on remaining in the driver's seat. Those days too many parents are collapsible.

Color Unconscious

Dear Ann: My problem is not one on which the world will rise or fall but it has caused me endless consternation and I need help.

About four months ago I began to date a very nice man who operates a small business near my place of employment. He invited me out and I accepted. He brought along a corsage of green baby orchids. My dress was electric blue. I wore the flowers although electric blue and green are hideous together, as you can imagine.

Two weeks later it happened again. He brought along a corsage of red roses. My dress was a flaming tangerine. The color combination couldn't have been more nauseating.

Last week his lodge had its summer formal. This time he went all out — a huge purple orchid. My gown was mingy nasty red. I couldn't bear to put that purple flower on my red gown. So I pinned it to my evening bag. I'm afraid he was hurt.

Do you have any advice for me? This man seems to have a rare talent for selecting flowers of exactly the wrong color. — ERNA.

Dear Erna: Don't discourage his tender sentiments. Just let him know that your favorite flowers are white — roses, gardenias, orchids, peonies, lilies, mums. ANYTHING white.

Ackerman, Others Of Peace Corps, Praised On Gabon

Marion L. Ackerman, 24-year-old Peace Corps volunteer from Salem, is a member of a volunteer school construction team on Gabon that has won high praise for its work by Gabonese government officials.

The Ambassador reports that "the relationships which the Volunteers have developed with the Gabonese at the work locations have been heart warming... seeing whites who work with their own hands side by side with them, performing the same manual tasks, has been a revelation to the Gabonese. The natives thus inspired have shown an energy and a will which no one thought they possessed."

Before going to Gabon, the volunteers trained for almost three months—one month in Puerto Rico and ten weeks in the Virgin Islands, in a training program conducted by the Experiment in International Living.

American Ambassador Charles Darlington reported to Washington Friday that, while the school buildings have been working in Gabon only two months, their impact on the whole country has already exceeded all expectations.

Since March 21, the 39 Volunteers in this project have been working in three teams, constructing three-room schools and teachers houses in the rural areas of Gabon.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Even with the wide array of colors in iron-on mending tapes often there is not one the exact shade for patching children's clothes.

My children have been delighted to have a bright "orange heart" ironed on over a knee on blue jeans, a red ball over another worn spot with a different color. Any design can be made "cut to order" from patched clothes.

LADIES: By using pinking shears when applying iron-on tape, I have found that the little jagged edges keep the tape from pulling loose in those many washings!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Would someone please tell us how to make sugar starch. I need this to starch center piece and doilies. I have tried many prepared starches but they do not seem to make them stiff enough. I would appreciate and answer from someone who crochets and knows the true recipe.

CARROLL SEALOCK.

Does anyone have the old-fashioned recipe for sugar starch? This is the kind we used to use when they made those lovely crocheted doilies, etc. If so, please send it to us. There are many people who would love it.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a trick I find very helpful for keeping a half, or left-over portion of avocado.

I like it served with canned grapefruit segments, a dab of mayonnaise and a sprinkle of paprika.

Peel the leftover part of the avocado and drop it into some juice of the grapefruit! It keeps well for several days in the refrigerator.

Thirteen girls, all former members of Girl Scout Troop 9, sponsored by the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, and four adult leaders, returned Thursday from a four-day visit in New York City. They made the trip by railroad and stayed at the Picadilly Hotel, off Times Square.

Their itinerary included Broadway play, a show at Radio Music Hall, tours of the United Nations and a cruise around Manhattan Island.

Those who made the trip are Gretchen Frew, Patty Snowberger, Cindy Serago, Jayne Chapman, Cheryl Serago, Beth Hailey, Debbie Pilmer, Hazel Pahanish, Sandra Rice, Kathy Barton, Gayle Beck, Nancy Kauffman and Crissy Kessler.

Mrs. Jack Pilmer, Mrs. William Kessler, Mrs. Edwin Kauffman and Mrs. William Hailey were the leaders who accompanied them.

W. L. Schorr, representative of the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad, also accompanied the group.

Forty-two members of the Daughters of America met Thursday evening at the D. of A. Hall, when three new members were initiated and one was re-initiated. If you've ever taken a child to the seashore, you know what that first glimpse of the ocean can mean to a youngster . . . the lure of fascination . . . the foreboding of fear. Which will win the struggle?

But what a delight when hesitation ends and Jeannie finds her happy beachhead down where the waves wane, and the tide seeks its rest.

And if you've ever taken a child to Sunday School, you know what that first glimpse of strange surroundings can mean.

But, even if there are misgivings that first Sunday, Jeannie soon finds her happy beachhead. And one day she'll plunge bravely and confidently into deeper reaches of the vast spiritual ocean that surrounds life.

Anything as vital as religious education deserves an early and earnest beginning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wynn's Bid For 300th Is Squelched In 9th 2-0

Detroit Snaps Losing Streak

Bosox Dump Yanks; Orioles Split Pair

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Early Wynn, somewhat dejected, just a little elated, picked up the phone in the Cleveland dressing room after losing the 243rd game of his career in a bid to become a 300-game winner.

It was his mother.

Ol' Gus finished the call, then answered the inquiring faces:

"What can your mother say to you when you lose? She didn't tell me to go out and get drunk."

But you could hardly blame the 43-year-old veteran right-hander who started his major league career in 1939, from taking a little nip after the Chicago White Sox scored a 2-0 victory over Wynn and the Indians Friday night.

Elated over his strong showing in his 1963 pitching debut, Wynn said, "I thought maybe I was going to get it."

Pizarro Is Spoiler
Juan Pizarro played a spoiler as Wynn tried for the fourth time to get No. 300. The White Sox left-hander allowed the Indians only six hits moving the Chicagoans to within one game of the American League leading New York Yankees, 7-4 losers at Boston.

Elsewhere, Detroit ended its losing streak at 10 games by downing Kansas City 6-4, the Los Angeles Angels edged Washington 1-0 for the Senators ninth straight loss and Minnesota and Baltimore split. The Twins won 5-2, the Orioles 10-2.

Frank Malzone did most of the damage for the Red Sox against the Yankees, driving in 3 runs with a homer and double. Gary Geiger also homered and made a fine running catch in the eighth inning to cut off a New York rally after 2 runs were in. Bill Monbouquette, 10-4, won his eighth in a row. He was tagged for a homer by Roger Maris.

Score 4 In 5th Frame
The Tigers took advantage of sloppy play by the A's, scored four runs in the fifth and got Chuck Dressen his first victory as Detroit manager. On one play, the A's Wayne Causey stood around holding onto Rock Colavito's bunt as Dick McAuliffe scored from 2nd base. Singles by Al Kaline and Norm Cash drove in another two runs.

Dean Chance, 6-6, and Julio Navarro combined to blank the Senators on four hits while the Angels got to Don Rudolph, 3-9, for the game's only run in the sixth inning. Bob Perry's sacrifice fly drove the run home after singles by Felix Torres and Charley Dees.

The Twins won the opener as Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jim Hall hit homers and Bill Dailey bailed out Lee Shange with some sharp ninth inning relief work. The Orioles came back to take the nightcap with their own homer barrage. Bob Johnson, Al Smith and Russ Snyder connecting and making it easy for Robin Roberts, now 5-7.

The game was a pitching classic between Wynn and Pizarro, who walked three and also struck out five. The Indians stranded nine runners—and Tito Francona had a couple of good chances to knock in runs.

Willie Kirkland had two of Cleveland's six hits and the others were by Willie Tasby, Joe Azcue and Wynn himself.

Hansen Hits 2-Run Homer
The White Sox broke through Wynn's armor in the ninth when Floyd Robinson led off with a single through the middle, his second hit. Azcue permitted a pitch to get away from him and Robinson raced to second. Tom McCraw bunted Robby over to third. Wynn reached deep down and struck out Dave Nicholson. But then the 19.177 fans groaned in disappointment as Hansen belted a 1-1 pitch over the fence at the 365-foot marker.

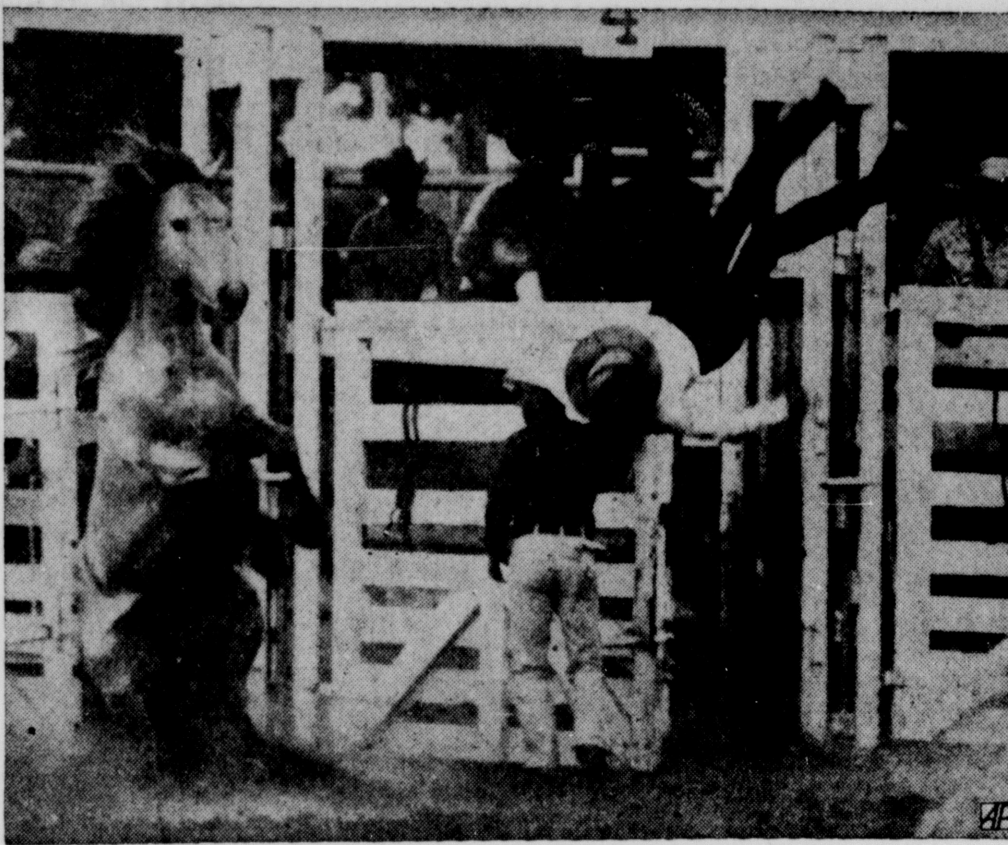

The Indians will send Jim (Mudcat) Grant (4-6) to face the White Sox Gary Peters (3-3) today.

Wilson Scores Ace At Root 62 Course
Ferg Wilson of New Garden made a hole-in-one at Root 62 Golf Course Friday. It was the second one made at the nine-hole layout this season.

The ace, the first ever on the 150-yard No. 9 hole, was shot with a seven iron. Wilson finished his round of golf with a 39. Par is 27.

He was playing the course with Norm Zimmerman, Wayne Haynes and Russ Wilson, all of the Salem area.

Nicklaus Fails To Qualify For Finals

Palmer, Cupit, Finsterwald Tie For Lead In Open Event

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) —

Don't look now, but here comes that man again and this time Jack Nicklaus isn't in his way.

Arnold Palmer, golf's glamor boy, heads into Saturday's 36-hole wind-up of the 63rd National Open championship with a well-tuned game, and not a worry in the world about Nicklaus, who trimmed him in a playoff for the title a year ago.

A spectacularly fashioned 2-under-par 69 did the job for the bronzed 33-year-old Latrobe, Pa., better Friday, catapulting him into a three-way tie for the lead at 142 with his closest golfing buddy, Dow Finsterwald and a tough, 25-year-old Texan, Jack Cupit.

And while Palmer and his mighty army of fanatics trampled the hallowed rolls and knolls of the 6,870-yard par 35-36-71 temple of tradition, Masters and reigning Open champion Nicklaus dropped out of sight.

His great game suddenly gone sour after some experimenting with his driving style, Nicklaus flopped to a 77 and failed to survive the cut to the low 50 scorers and ties for the last two rounds.

It took a score of 152-10 over par for 36 holes—to qualify. Nicklaus, who had misfired to a 76 on Thursday's first round, wound up at 153, becoming the first champion to fail to get past the cut since Jack Fleck fizzled in 1956, a year after he had beaten Ben Hogan in a 1955 championship playoff.

The showdown appears headed for a five-man tussle among Palmer, Finsterwald, Cupit, and two seasoned players who'll start the day just three strokes off the pace, Tony Lema and Julius (Moose) Boros.

100 Cars Set For Tonight's Canfield Card

There will be more than 100 stock cars in action at Canfield Speedway in a big 12-race program.

Two big feature races will headline the card, which will get under way at 8:30 p.m. Time trials begin at 7 and gates open at 6:30 p.m.

The hot duel between Bill Forney of Youngstown and Jim Bicklerstaff of Mineral Ridge will resume, but maybe Nook Walters of Niles will again break up the winning combination.

Forney and Bicklerstaff had dominated every feature this year until Walters came along last Saturday night to grab the honors. Tonight Walters says he will again feed his exhaust fumes to the two top stars.

The lineup also will include Mason Heiser, Paul Kerr, Ken Lowe, Phil Wertz, Rabbi Hippley, Bud Cochran, George Schimley, Bob Blaney, George Hegedus, Bob Greer, Chuck Dorsey, Bob Stephens, Chuck Morris and many others.

A huge field of amateurs also will provide plenty of action. Since there will be more than 75 of them, fans see more cars in a Canfield heat race - 24 - than the total number of cars that can be seen at some tracks.

Earl Felicity leads a big Warren contingent that also includes Jim Mellicka, Earl Tetters, and Tom Wimer. Gene Friend will come in from Girard, along with Frank Buccella, Vic Searfoss.

These are just a few of the many other drivers scheduled to see action.

Make-Up Tilts Slated By City Softball Loop
Three make-up games have been scheduled by the Salem City Softball Leagues for Sunday.

All the contests will be played at Kelley Field, with Stepanic's taking on Salem Merchants at 4 p.m., Gold Bar going against Alliance Ware at 5:30 p.m. and Old Dutch meeting Parkers Chevrolet at 6:30 p.m.

Mets Snap Losing Streak, Trim Phils 3-1

Pirates Lose Extra Inning Contest 6-5 To Cubs; Cincy Blanks Colts

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

It takes a touch of the unexpected to keep a longshot team close to the front in a pennant race—like a key hit from an ex-cricketer player with a .215 batting average.

That's what the Chicago Cubs got Friday when Andre Rodgers clubbed a run-producing single in the 10th inning that gave them a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rodgers, a rangy shortstop from the Bahamas whose prowess at cricket led him to a major league baseball career, came up with the bases full and one out in the Cub 10th, and stroked his hit over the pulled-in Pirate infield.

Post 4th Straight Win

It was the fourth straight victory for the Cubs, a second division club in the National League for the past 16 years and picked for another lower echelon finish this season. Despite the dire predictions, they're currently in fifth place, just 2 1/2 games from the top and only a point out of fourth.

In other NL action—the Sandy Koufax-Ron Perranoski pitching combination plus Tommy Davis' homer paced the Los Angeles Dodgers over first-place St. Louis 5-3; Milwaukee bunched six runs with only two hits in the fifth inning and whipped San Francisco 6-3; right-hander Jim Maloney became an 11-game winner with a four-hitter as Cincinnati blanked Houston 3-0 and the New York Mets snapped their latest losing string at five, trimming Philadelphia 3-1.

Koufax was within one out of his third straight shutout in the Dodgers' decision over the Cards when Tim McCarver tagged a three-run homer with two away in the last of the ninth. The star southpaw, now 11-3, issued a walk before giving way to Perranoski, who got the final out.

Davis Clouts Home Run

Tommy Davis hit his homer with one on in the eighth and the blow proved decisive. Curt Simmons was nicked for all five Dodger runs.

Bob Bolin of the Giants held Milwaukee without a hit until the fifth—when the Braves erupted. Joe Torre triggered the outburst with a homer, then Bolin came apart. A walk, an error, a hit batsman and a wild pitch tied the score at 2-2, two more walks forced in the go-ahead run, and Lee Maye capped it by slamming a bases-loaded triple against Bolin.

Orlando Cepeda connected for two homers against Milwaukee winner Tony Cloninger.

Maloney, winning his fifth straight and running his record to 11-2, was in a scoreless struggle with Houston's Ken Johnson until the Reds rallied for three runs in the last of the ninth. Bob Skinner singled across the first marker, another came in on Vada Pinson's ground out, and pinch batter Frank Robinson singled in the third.

The fourth-place Reds now have won four in a row while Houston has lost five straight.

Left-hander Al Jackson got the Mets' first hit against the Phils' Cal McLish, a leadoff single in the sixth, and scored the game's first run when Frank Thomas drove in two with a double. Jackson also singled in the seventh, after a walk, and Jim Piersall bunted home New York's third run.

Jackson pitched a seven-hitter for the last-place Mets.

Hayes Sprints To 9.1 100-Yard Dash

3 Records Are Set In 75th National AAU Track Event

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Powerful Bob Hayes of Florida twice smashed the world record in the 100-yard dash, setting the stage for a world record try in the mile by little Jim Beatty and five other sub-4-minute milers Saturday in the 75th National AAU track and field meet.

World records also could go in the 220-yard dash, where Hayes will duel Henry Carr of Arizona State, and in the 440-yard dash, where defending champion Uli Williams of Arizona State and Adolph Plummer of New Mexico are the co-favorites.

Three meet records were set in year.

The seven events completed Friday night and at least six more will be in danger in the 12-event program Saturday.

Seek All-Star Team Spots

The field of about 300 athletes, including 200 collegians, is battling for places on the United States team which will face Russia in Moscow July 20-21. The first two American citizens in each event qualify for the team.

Hayes set a world record in the semifinal heat in 9.1 seconds, compared to the world mark set by Frank Budd of Villanova in the 1961 AAU meet and equalled by Canada's Harry Jerome last Beatty, 5-foot-6 barrel-chested leader of the Los Angeles Track Club, currently is the world's No. 2 miler with a best of 3 minutes 11.5 seconds. He is the defending champ and co-record holder at 3:57.9.

But Dyrrol Burleson of the Oregon Emerald Empire AA ran a 3:55.6 in the same race; Jim Grelle, Beatty's teammate, a 3:56.4 and Marine Lt. Cary Weisiger of Camp Pendleton, Calif. 3:57.1 Bob Seaman of Los Angeles Track Club and Tom O'Hara of Chicago Loyola both have run under 3:59 Burleson and Grelle are former champs. Each was in the 1960 Olympic team.

Cleary Bar At 16-4
Brian Sternberg, 19-year-old Washington sophomore who has a pending world mark of 16 feet 8 inches in the pole vault, missed 16-9 but set a meet record of 16-4.4.

Hayes Jones of Detroit tied the meet record of 13.4 in the 120-yard high hurdles despite knocking down two hurdles. He became the first four-time winner of the event in this century.

The other meet mark was a 28:29.2 six-mile by Irish-born Pete McArdle of New York, breaking the U.S. citizen's record.

PHENOMENAL FINISH — Penny O'Joe, second from top, nips the field at Washington Park in one of the most remarkable finishes in the history of racing. After the stewards at the Chicago track had finished unscrambling the picture it was decided that Count Chuck, 7 at top, was second and Bueno Road, 8, third in the field of nine.

Two Three-Hitters Highlight Action

Sekely Ties Elks For Class F Lead In Junior Baseball Race

Sekely moved into a tie for first place in the Class F division with Elks as it defeated Electric Furnace 13-12 in a Salem Junior Baseball contest at Memorial North Friday.

Farb Tinsley tossed a three-hitter, and his teammate, Rick Metts, clouted a home run to spark Eljer to a 3-1 victory over Farmers National Bank at Memorial South.

National Dry Cleaners nipped Scotts Sports 9-8 at Centennial South, and Knights of Columbus was awarded a forfeit in Class G.

Rick Ewing threw a three-hitter as Ailes Insurance defeated Cherry Hill 30-4 in a Class H tilt at Reilly Field.

VFW rallied in the second half of its battle to knock off CIO 40-22 14-8 in Class E competition at Centennial North.

Sekely chalked up the winning run in the bottom of the seventh on a walk and a single by Rick Stanfield.

The score was tied 6-6 after three innings, and both teams picked up six runs in the sixth to keep the game deadlocked 12-12.

Stanfield hit three singles to pace the winners. John Crawford hit a double and single to spark the losers.

Eljer picked up two runs in the bottom of the ninth to trim Farmers Bank. The winners chalked up two markers on a hit batter and singles by Chuck Montgomery and Bill Smith.

Farmers Bank took a 1-0 lead in the fourth on a triple by Charles Drakulich and a double by William Karnofel. Metts' homer tied it in the sixth.

Montgomery led the winners with three hits. Ron Baker was the only other Bankers' batter to get a hit off Tinsley, who struck out 12 and walked five.

National Dry Cleaners scored most of its runs in the middle innings, taking the lead in the bottom of the fifth with a four run rally on three walks and three errors.

Wally Simpson paced the winners with a triple and a double. Kenny Stein hit a home run and a single for the losers. Russell Dawson had three singles.

Ailes Insurance scored runs in every inning. The winner took an 11-0 lead in the first frame.

Winning hurler Ewing, who struck out 12 and walked eight, led the winners with two doubles and a single. Bob Jelen and Gary Herron also had three hits apiece.

Rick Carreon hit a home run for the losers in the second inning, and Bernie Cibula tripled in the third to drive in three runs.

VFW broke the game wide open in the seventh with a six-run rally on three walks, a hit batter, double by Chris Christofaris and a single by Cody Goard.

Chuck Alexander led the winners with two hits. Phil Coseno had a pair of doubles and a single for the losers.

12 Races Set At Sharon On Sunday's Card

HARTFORD, OHIO—The weekly program of stock car races Sunday night at Sharon Speedway is again expected to draw a large field of cars, numbering close to 100. The guaranteed prize money has been upped from $2,000 to $2,300 a week ago and this brought out many new cars, driven by pilots who are newcomers to Sharon Speedway fans.

The program will have 12 guaranteed events in three divisions, with a feature in each, plus the "bonus races," which are added if enough cars show up. Sharon Speedway has a policy of adding races to the program so that each car is able to race in at least two events.

Time trials for the weekly show will start at 6:30 p.m. and the first race gets underway promptly at 8 o'clock.

Outstanding veteran drivers who will appear include Henry Jacoby of Franklin, who has won five features in the modified division, Steve Unger of Ravenna, Bob Burris of Lisbon, Lou Blaney of Hartford, Bill Banick of Sharon, Jim Seese of Akron and many others in the modifieds. Bob Greer of Hubbard, who won the feature in the sportsman division last Sunday, will head the list of drivers in this division. He will be getting plenty of competition from drivers like Bob Blaney of Hartford, Mike Borawiec and Bob Shaw of Warren, Dick Lantz of Newton Falls, and Johnny Walker of Massury. John Ball of Greenville, last week's feature winner in the stock division, will be back to try and make it two in a row.

The program will include two heat races, an Australian Pursuit, and a feature for each division. The stocks will have a 15-lap feature and the sportsman and modifieds a 25-lap feature.

Charley's Boats picked up two runs in the third on error, a sacrifice and a single by Frank Grey and Thompson.

Jerry Beiling, Paul Herman and Thompson led the winners with two hits apiece. Eckstein paced the losers with two hits.

Four errors by Salem Moose 571 handed Alliance Ware its fourth win in 10 starts. The losers are now 7-4.

In the ninth, Alliance picked up its winning third runs on the four errors, a sacrifice and a single by Sponseller.

The losers chalked up two runs in the second to tie the game, then chalked up two in the third to take a 4-2 lead. Alliance Ware tied the contest 4-4 in the fourth.

Federal Housing Officials Seek End to Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal housing officials are studying how to step up pressure on home builders to voluntarily end discrimination against Negroes.

If no answer can be found, it may lead to a broadening of President Kennedy's anti-bias housing order to include conventionally-financed as well as federally financed housing.

In early test cases, officials have had little luck in persuading builders who don't come under the order to sell to Negroes.

Gradually, however, more and more builders will come under the order and officials feel that, to some extent, time is on their side.

But recent mass protests, in both the North and the South, indicate that the Negroes are in no mood to wait. Although the disturbances haven't directly involved housing so far, there is a feeling that this will come before long.

New regulations will be issued early next week affecting some phases of urban renewal.

The over-all question of how to work more effectively under section 102 of the housing order, which calls on federal agencies "to use their good offices and take other appropriate action permitted by law" to wipe out discrimination in housing not covered by the order, is under consideration by the President's Committee for Equal Opportunity in

Notices Mailed to Tax Delinquents

Letters were mailed this week from City Solicitor Thomas Coe's office to 113 individuals, businesses and corporations who are delinquent in making city income tax returns.

The letters reminded the recipients of the delinquencies and added that, according to the city income tax ordinance, a fine of five dollars had been added to each statement. The deadline for paying the one-half of one per cent income tax was April 15.

Legal action is expected to be taken by the solicitor in cases where no returns have yet been made by delinquents by July 1.

American president in Europe. Although television's role in the Kennedy trip has been largely overlooked, it could hold the key to success or failure of the president's mission.

Because there is nothing Kennedy wants to negotiate while in Europe, he lays great stress on the opportunity to talk directly to the people of Europe as spokesman for American policy.

Civil Rights

Established a committee to work toward establishing better communications between whites and Negroes.

One lawyer said the thrust of Kennedy's argument was not for his legislative program—to which some of the Southern lawyers objected—but an appeal for the lawyers to work in their hometowns for racial harmony.

For the most part the lawyers described the session as very productive.

Murder

der 16.

Detectives gave this account of his signed statement:

He went to Erica's apartment about 10 p.m. to return a key she had lost. He said she started shouting at him for not returning the key sooner.

Then, he said, Erica dashed into the kitchen, grabbed a bread knife and threatened him. Overcome by anger, he seized the knife during a struggle and plunged it into her.

Erica collapsed on the floor, then managed to stagger into the bathroom.

The boy told police he took an electric cord from a lamp and tied one end around Erica's neck.

Unsuccessful in washing the blood from his shirt, he took it down to the East River, loaded it with rocks and tossed it into the water. Then he went home to bed.

Halpern said Erica was the daughter of New Orleans television producer Eric Sayers.

The girl's mother, Gabrielle, 34, married Halpern last October in Mexico. Her professional name was Gabe Bouche. Halpern said she appeared on the cover of Life Magazine in 1948.

He told police he had a dispute with his wife last Thursday and she indicated she was leaving him.

Motorist Cited In Lisbon After Crash

LISBON — John Leroy Hinchliffe, 22, Lisbon RD 2, was cited for reckless operation following a one-car crash on N. Market St., just north of Jerome St. at 2:15 this morning.

Hinchliffe, going north, failed to negotiate a curve and hit a tree, a mail box and a route marker.

Pit. Kenneth McKenzie cited Hinchliffe who will have a hearing Sunday evening before Mayor Dean Stockman.

SIGHTS WEATHER BALLOON

A huge weather balloon with a man in its gondola was seen by Edward Day of RD 2, Salem, as it passed over his farm at an unusually low altitude this morning at 11:30. Cable said the balloon, about twice the size of a house, was being circled by two large cargo planes as it passed overhead.

Jury Acquits Teacher of Defiling Flag

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A 39-year-old former high school teacher, who stepped on an American flag in a classroom demonstration, has been acquitted of charges of defiling the flag.

A Geauga County Common Pleas jury deliberated the fate of Arlie McCartt for an hour before rendering a verdict Friday night. Judge Robert B. Ford had specified that malicious intent to desecrate the flag must be shown for a conviction under the state law.

Several witnesses testified McCartt pulled the flag off its stand, stepped on it and said: "If I had done this during the Spanish-American war, I might have been shot."

The prosecution argued only the act of stepping on the flag need be proved and that intent was not mentioned in the law.

McCartt had been a high school teacher for five years. After protests arose about the flag-stepping incident at Kenston High School, which occurred last Feb. 17, McCartt resigned.

Sunday Law

during Senate consideration of the measure.

Their Comments

The irony is reflected in comments from James and Mechem. Said James: "I wish the senator (Mechem) had asked some of us for our opinions. But not once have I been approached for suggestions."

Said Mechem: "You know, it's a funny thing. Usually you hear from these House fellows when they want a particular bill. And you know, not once have I heard from any of them about the James bill."

Not only is he not hearing from the "House fellows," Mechem maintains he isn't hearing very much from the "Senate fellows" either.

"I've brought up the subject in the Rules Committee four or five times just to get some sentiment," he said. "And I want to tell you, here just isn't much sentiment."

James Concerned

James clearly is concerned by the Senate's lack of action on the Sunday closing issue. He thinks the House bill is the best possible solution to the confusion the existing law has spawned.

According to James, the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants is putting some heat on the Senate for a tighter bill to limit Sunday food sales.

The James bill has come under fire from the so-called "mom and pop" store operator who claim it would put them out of business. Mechem's objections to the bill center on that point.

"It would put the 'mom and pops' out of business," he said. "And I just don't intend to help do that."

Fears Constitutionality

But James is convinced that the bill would be in trouble constitutionally if it were written to "protect" any specific group.

If the legislature takes no action on the Sunday closing problem, James said, it will represent one of the biggest failures of the session.

"I think the people of Ohio have given the legislature a mandate in no uncertain terms to clarify the law," he said.

Body of Premature Child Found In Lake

The body of a prematurely-born male child was found wrapped in towel in a shoe box floating in the southern part of Pine Lake east of Columbiana Friday night. Mahoning County authorities said the box was discovered by James Griffith of East Palestine while he and his son were fishing at the lake. Griffith notified Earl Switzer, the lake watchman, who called the Beaver Township constable.

The body was taken to Youngstown South Side Hospital.

1,000 To Attend Radio Club Event

LISBON — Over 1,000 persons are expected to attend the jubilee of the Pennova Citizens Band Radio Club at the Columbiana County fairgrounds Sunday, according to Floyd Saltsman, chairman.

Radio equipment prizes will be awarded at the event which will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Approximately 1,000 attended the first affair at Thompson's Park in East Liverpool last year.

Guests are expected from all the states bordering the tri-state area, Saltsman said.

The Lisbon Lion's Club will be in charge of a lunch stand on the grounds.

Pope Paul

gray hair, was the acknowledged favorite when the 80 cardinals locked themselves into the conclave area Wednesday.

A skilled diplomat who served Pope Pius XII as pro-secretary of state, he also worked closely with the successor to Pius, John XXIII. He supported the late Pope's efforts to bring Christians together and reach new arrangements for the faithful in Communist-ruled countries.

His election proved an exception to the Vatican adage that "He Who Enters the Conclave as Pope Comes Out as Cardinal," meaning that favorites are seldom chosen.

Quickly making his first appointment, Pope Paul appeared to be serving notice of his intentions.

He named Amleto Cardinal Cicognani as his secretary of state. Cardinal Cicognani had served Pope John in that post and was active in planning last fall's Ecumenical Council, considered the high point of Pope John's reign.

Vatican officials announced the coronation date of June 30, one day after the feast day of St. Peter and St. Paul. They said the day is most particularly connected with the memory of St. Paul.

On his coronation day, rich with the tradition of the ages, Pope Paul will be carried on his portable throne down the central aisle of St. Peter's Basilica as the vaulted church echoes to cheers and applause.

Outside, on the central balcony, of St. Peter's, the three-tiered tiara of the pontificate, encrusted with precious gems and topped by the golden orb and cross, will be placed on his head as thousands give voice to their joy.

President Kennedy, whose European tour will take him to Italy June 30, is not expected to arrive in Rome in time for the ceremony, usually held in the morning.

Pope Paul is expected to receive the first Roman Catholic President of the United States in audience July 2.

In a message on behalf of the United States shortly after the Pope's election, Kennedy wished him "long years of leadership in the cause of peace and good will so nobly advanced by your great predecessor."

W. VIRGINIA CLUB PICNIC

A basket dinner at 1 p.m. will highlight the picnic outing Sunday of members of the local West Virginia club. The day's activities, however, will open at 10 a.m. with a musical program by Lee Webb. Games are scheduled for 2 p.m.

BI-RACIAL GROUP FORMED

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Elyria is following the example of Cleveland by setting up a bi-racial committee to consider racial problems. Mayor Charles C. Neeson said Friday he would appoint such a committee. The announcement followed a meeting between Neeson and the Rev. George T. Short, president of the Elyria Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.
